FARMERS AND WIVES HERE IN TWO SCHOOLS

FARMERS' INSTITUTE MEETS AT FARMERS' ROOM IN THE COURT HOUSE

BAKING SCHOOL FOR THE FARM LADIES AT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Two sessions of particular benefit to farmers of the county and their wives will open in Brainerd tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, the one at the Farmers' Room of the court house where the Farmers' Institute will place and the other for the farm ladies in the Chamber of Commerce rooms where the baking school will be conducted, according to E. G. Roth, county agent.

Over 100 farmers of the county and their wives are expected to attend the sessions tomorrow and the city takes this opportunity to bid them all a royal welcome.

As a token of their esteem of their neighbors of the farm, the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce House and Social Committee has arranged to provide a luncheon in the Chamber of Commerce rooms for the visitors at the noon hour. The luncheon will be without charge and all farm visitors are cordially invited to attend. Announcement of the luncheon will be made at the morning sessions. The dinner was arranged by the House and Social Committee who have raised $50 to defray the expenses by contributions of the business men of the city.

R. R. Gould, president of the Chamber of Commerce, today made the following remarks regarding the event tomorrow:

"The friendly attitude of the Brainerd business men toward our farmer friends in the surrounding territory is partially expressed by the tender of the luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce rooms at noon on the occasion of the Farmers' Institute.

"We realize the interdependence of each line of business on every other, and that the prosperity of the community should include the prosperity of every occupation represented in our county and beyond.

"We hope that the Institute will be well attended and that much valuable exchange of ideas will take place and that from getting better acquainted, the friendly and interested attitude of all concerned in the welfare of this part of Minnesota will be increased."

Farmers' Institute Session

Practical discussion of farm subjects of particular benefit to the farmer of this county will be part of the program of the Institute in session at the court house from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M. tomorrow. The study of agricultural problems as they are presented in this section of the state will create a better knowledge of conditions as they exist.

E. W. Smith, Long Prairie, who conducts a diversified farm, and F. W. White, dairy and livestock farmer of Lyon county, both speakers being successful practical farmers familiar with Minnesota conditions will lead the discussions.

Subjects to be discussed will be: dairy farming, hog feeding, farm crops, including alfalfa and other legumes. Discussions will be invited and questions answered.

Copies of the new 160-page Institute Annual on horses and sheep will be distributed at this meeting.

Baking School

The Baking School will be conducted at the Chamber of Commerce rooms by Miss Margaret Baker and Miss Keller, representing the Russell Milling Co., of Minneapolis, from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M.

JAPANESE FISHING CRAFT, 10 ABOARD, POUNDS TO PIECES

San Pedro, Calif., Feb. 11.—(UP)—With a crew of 10 Japanese aboard, the fishing craft Patricia Second was being pounded to pieces today in Magdalena Bay, radio messages said.

AIM TO LINK LEOPOLD WITH WARDEN SLAYING

DEFINITE ATTEMPT UNDER WAY AT JOLIET, ILL., PENITENTIARY

STATE'S ATTORNEY MAY ASK FOR DEATH PENALTY FOR MILLIONAIRE'S SON

Joliet, Ill., Feb. 11.—(UP)—A definite attempt to link Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., millionaire "thrill slayer" of Bobby Franks, with the murder of Deputy Warden Peter Klein of the state penitentiary, was under way today.

State's Attorney Hjalmar Rehn of Will county said that he needed just a bit of "corroborative evidence" to add to the story told by six men sentenced to die for the murder, before asking for the death penalty for Leopold, who is serving a sentence of life and 99 years for the murder of young Franks.

Leopold was sentenced with Richard Loeb, also the son of a Chicago millionaire, after they had admitted killing Bobby Franks "for a thrill." The young millionaire's son was drawn into the murder of Deputy Warden Klein by statements made by the six convicted men that had planned the prison escape and had admitted having sufficient money to aid them after the escape had been effected. The murder of Klein was not in the escape plans, but was committed through attempts to get Leopold out of his solitary confinement cell, the convicted men say.

'Getting By' in Classes Is No Substitute For Real Scholarship

Chicago, Feb. 11.—(UP)—The modern college fraternities breed students who are facile in the classroom and who "get by" but this is not a substitute for real scholarship, President Max Mason of the University of Chicago told the Interfraternity Chicago association.

The alumni of the fraternities are preventing college students from ever exceeding a pedestrian pace in the realm of knowledge he said.

"If a fellow should buy a book in a course which he is not taking and should go back to his fraternity room, read it and think about it, he would be judged a queer fellow. And he probably would be," President Mason said. "Scholarship today seems to be an affair for the shutouts and queer fellows."

He said fraternity men with their social advantages and intellectual ability should form the nucleus of creative personalities gathering behind them youth, curiosity and intelligence.

HOLDUP MAN'S HABIT OF ROBBING STATION IS STOPPED

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 11.—(UP)—A holdup man who had robbed the manager of a Standard oil station five times within six weeks made his regular round again last night and is in a hospital today suffering from a bullet wound in the shoulder.

Just as the manager was locking up for the night he turned to face his periodical visitor and a big revolver. He threw up his hands.

But two policemen who had stationed themselves in an adjacent alley every night for a week awaiting his return saw the proceedings. One of them fired, dropping the hijacker.

An ambulance was called and carried him to a hospital. His condition is not serious.

House Resolution Seeks to Put Congress on Record Against Third Term for Presidents

BEST TRAINED CHINESE FIGHTERS MARCH SOUTHWARD

HIGHLY DISCIPLINED MANCHURIAN TROOPS OF CHANG TSO-LIN

LAUNCH OFFENSIVE AGAINST CHINESE NATIONALISTS FOR CONTROL OF SHANGHAI

By RANDALL GOULD (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Peking, Feb. 11.—The best-trained fighters in China, the highly disciplined Manchurian troops of Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, were marching southward today to launch an offensive against the Cantonese nationalists for control of China.

The opposing forces probably will meet somewhere between Hankow and Shanghai for the deciding battle of the war.

Impatient of further delay, the north China leader, Marshal Chang, called upon his provincial governors to realize that north and south China were engaged in a battle for supremacy and urged co-operation with his forces to push the Cantonese beyond the Yangtze valley.

In his pronouncement, Chang bluntly told of his impatience with another of the north China war lords, Marshal Wu Pei-Fu, who he said was incapable and entirely lacking in ability.

It was not the first time that the military chieftains had been at odds. In 1922 they were pitted against each other outside of Peking for control of north China. In the present struggle, however, they have been fighting on the same side, the issue being between the north and the south.

Chang's announcement was made in a circular telegram to the northern generals.

Marshal Chang today issued a statement approving the suggestions of United States Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg that the international settlement at Shanghai be neutralized to prevent outward incidents. Chang promised to do his utmost to "eliminate Bolshevism" from China.

Shanghai, Feb. 11.—Three hundred American marines were ready here today to defend American lives and property from any dangers arising from mob violence or civil war. The arrival of the marines yesterday aboard the U. S. S. Pecos passed almost unnoticed.

Refugees from Szechuan province, 159 of them, packed in the tiny river steamer Pyang, arrived today in compliance with the order recently issued by the various consulates for the evacuation of the province. Twenty-seven were Americans and 73 Canadians. The refugee colony here today numbered 500 persons.

Szechuan lies far inland. It is bounded on the west by Tibet and on the east by the Chinese province of Hupeh where the Cantonese nationalists captured the cities of Hankow, Wuchang and Hanyang from the northerners and established their capital.

TO MAKE 3,000 MILE AERIAL SURVEY FOR NAVY

Philadelphia, Feb. 11.—(UP)—Two navy photographic planes hopped off from the navy yard here for Quantico, Va., on the first leg of a 3,000-mile aerial survey of lighthouses, beacons, and sea-plane anchorage along the Atlantic coast.

The trip will occupy six months. It was estimated by naval officers. A base will be established at the air station at Pensacola, Fla., from which the planes will work.

The planes were piloted by Capt. J. E. Davis and Lieut. C. F. Schilt of the marine corps. Each carried a mechanic.

SAFE CRACKER PLIES VOCATION ON VESSEL

San Pedro, Calif., Feb. 11.—(UP)—There is a safe cracker aboard the S. S. Columbia today, who, although the vessel was steaming up the Mexican coast, took $51,000 from the ship's vaults. When the Columbia arrived in San Pedro, bound for San Francisco, an all-day search by harbor police and private detectives failed to uncover any definite clue concerning the stolen money. The sum was consigned to a San Francisco bank from San Salvador.

Police here went through every stateroom and even tore up bedding in their efforts to locate the missing money. Passengers who left the boat were forced to undergo a rigid search.

None of the crew was permitted ashore. The vessel will be searched again when it arrives in San Francisco.

DEATH TOLL IN GAS EXPLOSION INCREASES TO 3

PHOENIX PARK COLLIERY AT PITTSBURGH, PA., ROCKED BY BLAST

BODIES OF TWO MORE MINERS WERE FOUND IN WORKINGS TODAY

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 11.—(UP)—The death toll in the gas explosion at the Phoenix Park Colliery was increased to three today when the bodies of two more miners were found in the workings which were rocked by a gas explosion yesterday. Two others are in the Pottsville hospital suffering severe burns.

The body of Stiney Fidele, 34, married, was found soon after the blast. Today rescue workers located the bodies of Ignatz Chikovitz and Peter Fedorick.

DETECTIVE IS CHARGED WITH MURDER

Gadsden, Ala., Feb. 11.—(UP)—More than four years after the slaying of Tobe Lancaster, 60, whose mangled body was found on Shiloh ridge, near here, R. C. West, one of the detectives who investigated the case, was under arrest today, charged with the murder.

West was indicted by a grand jury after witnesses who had remained silent since Sept. 22, 1922, when the body was discovered, decided to tell their story of the midnight murder. Lancaster was killed for $1,000 in gold coins he carried with him, according to authorities. He was slain by a crushing blow on the head and his body dragged to the creek.

Testimony of Mrs. Nancy Bramlett, who lived at the time in an abandoned powder magazine near the place where the body was found, was believed to have been the principal witness before the grand jury. Members of her family had reported being warned to "keep quiet."

N. Y. EVENING TELEGRAM BOUGHT BY SCRIPPS-HOWARD

New York, Feb. 11.—(UP)—The New York Evening Telegram today was purchased by the Scripps-Howard interests.

Passing of the distinguished newspaper from the hands of William T. Dewart, who recently purchased the Evening Sun and Evening Telegram from the estate of Frank A. Munsey, was announced jointly by Dewart and Roy W. Howard, chairman of the board of Scripps-Howard organization.

The acquisition of the Telegram by the Scripps-Howard concern will bring the total of the Scripps-Howard newspaper publications up to 26 and will mark its first appearance in the New York field of journalism.

MAY BECOME WEAPON OF FARM BLOC LEADERS

INTRODUCED BY REP. BECK, OF WISCONSIN, REPUBLICAN INSURGENT

WILL BE RESURRECTED IF COOLIDGE VETOES FARM RELIEF BILL

McNARY-HAUGEN PRICE STABILIZATION BILL PASSED SENATE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 11.—4:40 p. m.—The McNary-Haugen Price Stabilization bill passed the Senate by a vote of 47 to 39.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The house resolution designated to place congress on record against third terms for presidents may become a weapon of farm bloc leaders in the fight for agricultural relief.

The resolution, introduced by Rep. Beck, Wisconsin, republican insurgent, will languish in a committee pigeonhole in the house, but if President Coolidge should veto the farm relief bill, a similar resolution might be presented to the senate, and under the rules there could be at least made a subject of discussion.

Threats of political retaliation already have come from senate farm bloc leaders, who are angry over reports that President Coolidge will refuse to sign the bill. Their resentment in such a case might lead to extreme measures.

Unless some such situation develops, however, congress will walk gingerly around the subject of the resolution, for it is too full of political dynamite. Regular republicans can afford to say nothing publicly because of the political consequences. If President Coolidge wants another term, they must stay with him.

Potential candidates probably have their own opinions at this time on the third term question, and perhaps enjoy its discussion by outsiders such as Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, but they will not go so far as he did.

Democrats will refrain for obvious reasons. Their attitude is shown by their action in preventing Sen. Caraway of Arkansas from introducing a resolution similar to Beck's. Caraway had his resolution all prepared, but leaders prevented him from introducing it.

CHARLES M. WOOD, NOTED AUTHOR AND HISTORIAN, DIES

Tucson, Ariz., Feb. 11.—(UP)—Charles Morgan Wood, noted author and historian, is dead at his Tucson home.

Wood, widely known in Boston and New York literary circles, succumbed yesterday to pneumonia. He had been living here for the past four years.

The author's "Southwest Americana" was considered one of the best and most complete works on the subject. At the time of his death he was writing a history of the Apache Indians.

CONGRESS TODAY

WIFE WITH BUTCHER KNIFE SAVES SPOUSE FROM WILDCAT

Klamath Falls, Ore., Feb. 11.—(UP)—O. L. Little was saved from being clawed to death by a large wildcat when his wife plunged a butcher knife into the animal's throat. The farmer's gun had failed to fire, and the beast sprang on the man, knocking him down.

DEVICE TO PROJECT MOVIES AND MUSIC

DEMONSTRATED FOR THE PRESS AT NEW YORK THEATRE

AMPLIFYING APPARATUS PLACED ON THE STAGE

New York, Feb. 11.—(UP)—Another device for the simultaneous projection of motion pictures and accompanying music or speech was demonstrated for the press at a New York theatre today.

This device records the music on an outside edge of the film and was developed by the engineers of the Radio Corporation, General Electric and Westinghouse Electric. It is easy to manipulate, the operator of the film projection machine being able to control the music producing apparatus without assistance. A simple cable connection is used to carry the electrical impulses of the music or talk to the amplifying apparatus on the stage.

Complete synchronization is attainable in this development, according to David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation. It differs from other devices where the motion picture film also carries the music in the method of record, an oscillograph is used.

At today's demonstration, it was shown that not only is it possible to record music simultaneously with the taking of motion pictures, but that it is possible to perfect a motion picture and then record an orchestral accompaniment which synchronizes. Several reels of a film which was shown last week at the Capitol Theatre were exhibited together with the accompaniment of the Capitol orchestra.

The method of presenting motion pictures with recorded accompaniments which is now being exhibited at several New York theatres at regular performances, employs the phonograph method, with disc records.

The new device was perfected after years of experiment by scientists and engineers, among whom are C. A. Hoxie, E. W. Kellogg, C. W. Rice, C. W. Hewlett, Irving Langmuir and H. B. Marvin.

TAGGART THINKS ANOTHER DEADLOCK WILL REPEAT 1924

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 11.—(UP)—Convinced that Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York and William McAdoo of California, will re-stage their epic deadlock of 1924 in the next democratic convention, Thomas Taggart, former Indiana senator and national democratic leader, today was grooming his own favorite to carry the democratic colors in 1928.

Evans Woollen, of Indianapolis, a Yale graduate and banker, is the man sponsored by Taggart. Woollen was defeated for the senate last fall. A former lawyer, born in 1864, Woollen achieved a reputation in business, law and finance in his home city.

Taggart, who is staying here at the Flamingo hotel, said in an interview today that prohibition should not be made a national issue, inasmuch as republicans and democrats are apparently equally interested in the problem.

Other figures in the democratic presidential "guessing bee," Taggart said, included Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, Edwin Thomas Meredith, former secretary of agriculture of Iowa, and Governor A. C. Ritchie, of Maryland.

Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland or St. Louis will be the democratic convention city in 1928, in Taggart's opinion.

FIRST REACTION TO THE COOLIDGE NAVAL LIMITATION

PROPOSAL FOR NEW FIVE POWER NAVAL ARMAMENT TREATY

FRANCE EXPECTED TO LEAD FOREIGN OPPOSITION TO THE PLAN

By LUDWELL DENNY (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 11.—First reaction to President Coolidge's proposal for a new five power naval limitation treaty indicated today approval at home, but divided, and partly hostile opinion abroad.

Congressional and press comment pointed to popular American support for the president's move for a supplemental Geneva conference to limit cruisers, destroyers and submarines as the Washington treaty limited capital ships.

But many senators and congressmen doubted that all the naval powers would agree to such limitation and some were therefore inclined to press the bill for three additional U. S. cruisers despite the president's opposition. The president has used the prospect of further disarmament as an argument against the bill.

France is expected to lead the foreign opposition to the Coolidge treaty proposal. Great Britain is reported to "accept in principle" the negotiation proposal. But unwilling to sign a treaty diminishing her cruiser-destroyer strength compared with French submarines, Japan stands with the United States. Italy is said to be undecided.

Close observers here saw two immediate effects of the president's act:

1. Increased prestige in the United States for the president on the assumption that arms limitation meets the popular demand for peace and economy.

2. Increased French resentment against this country. The French, it was recalled, had seen in the Washington arms conference an "Anglo-American combine," and there has been French hostility to the U. S. debt funding policy, resulting in delayed action by France on the debt settlement.

Whatever the domestic political effects of the limitation proposal prove to be, the president's friends said there was no ground for charges that the proposal is "merely a gesture." They added that the administration has tried for two years to create a situation in which another five power naval pact would be practicable.

The deadlock reached by the Geneva preparatory commission, which the president hopes to break by his proposal, is authoritatively explained as follows:

France maintains that land, air and sea armaments must be considered together as a whole, and that potential man power is economic, and therefore opposes a separate naval pact. Behind her position is a felt need of a preponderant air and submarine force against possible war with Britain, and the necessity for adequate transport and convoy strength for a Mediterranean bridge to her African and near eastern territory. France blocked submarine limitation at the Washington conference.

President Coolidge's proposal that this government, Britain and Japan agree to a 5-5-3 ratio on auxiliary ships, while leaving to the actual conference to determine the ratio of France and Italy, is seen here as a deliberate loop-hole to facilitate France's acceptance of the naval conference idea.

The United States, however, is unwilling to recede from its basic position—the reverse of the French position that naval armament must be dealt with separately by the five naval powers, leaving land and air armaments to regional agreements. The president feels that this country cannot reduce its army below present strength of one thousand soldiers to one million population, and also that this government should not interfere in the complicated European land disarmament problem.

WILL BE RESURRECTED IF COOLIDGE VEToes FARM RELIEF BILL

McNARY-HAUGEN PRICE STABILIZATION BILL PASSED SENATE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 11.—4:40 p. m.—The McNary-Haugen Price Stabilization bill passed the Senate by a vote of 47 to 39.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The house resolution designated to place congress on record against third terms for presidents may become a weapon of farm bloc leaders in the fight for agricultural relief.

The resolution, introduced by Rep. Beck, Wisconsin, republican insurgent, will languish in a committee pigeonhole in the house, but if President Coolidge should veto the farm relief bill, a similar resolution might be presented to the senate, and under the rules there could be at least made a subject of discussion.

Threats of political retaliation already have come from senate farm bloc leaders, who are angry over reports that President Coolidge will refuse to sign the bill. Their resentment in such a case might lead to extreme measures.

Unless some such situation develops, however, congress will walk gingerly around the subject of the resolution, for it is too full of political dynamite. Regular republicans can afford to say nothing publicly because of the political consequences. If President Coolidge wants another term, they must stay with him.

Potential candidates probably have their own opinions at this time on the third term question, and perhaps enjoy its discussion by outsiders such as Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, but they will not go so far as he did.

Democrats will refrain for obvious reasons. Their attitude is shown by their action in preventing Sen. Caraway of Arkansas from introducing a resolution similar to Beck's. Caraway had his resolution all prepared, but leaders prevented him from introducing it.

FIRST REACTION TO THE COOLIDGE NAVAL LIMITATION

PROPOSAL FOR NEW FIVE POWER NAVAL ARMAMENT TREATY

FRANCE EXPECTED TO LEAD FOREIGN OPPOSITION TO THE PLAN

By LUDWELL DENNY (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 11.—First reaction to President Coolidge's proposal for a new five power naval limitation treaty indicated today approval at home, but divided, and partly hostile opinion abroad.

Congressional and press comment pointed to popular American support for the president's move for a supplemental Geneva conference to limit cruisers, destroyers and submarines as the Washington treaty limited capital ships.

But many senators and congressmen doubted that all the naval powers would agree to such limitation and some were therefore inclined to press the bill for three additional U. S. cruisers despite the president's opposition. The president has used the prospect of further disarmament as an argument against the bill.

France is expected to lead the foreign opposition to the Coolidge treaty proposal. Great Britain is reported to "accept in principle" the negotiation proposal. But unwilling to sign a treaty diminishing her cruiser-destroyer strength compared with French submarines, Japan stands with the United States. Italy is said to be undecided.

Close observers here saw two immediate effects of the president's act: 1. Increased prestige in the United States for the president on the assumption that arms limitation meets the popular demand for peace and economy.

2. Increased French resentment against this country. The French, it was recalled, had seen in the Washington arms conference an "Anglo-American combine" and there has been French hostility to the U. S. debt funding policy, resulting in delayed action by France on the debt settlement.

Whatever the domestic political effects of the limitation proposal prove to be, the president's friends said there was no ground for charges that the proposal is "merely a gesture." They added that the administration has tried for two years to create a situation in which another five power naval pact would be practicable.

The deadlock reached by the Geneva preparatory commission, which the president hopes to break by his proposal, is authoritatively explained as follows:

France maintains that land, air and sea armaments must be considered together as a whole, and that potential man power is economic, and therefore opposes a separate naval pact. Behind her position is a felt need of a preponderant air and submarine force against possible war with Britain, and the necessity for adequate transport and convoy strength for a Mediterranean bridge to her African and near eastern territory. France blocked submarine limitation at the Washington conference.

President Coolidge's proposal that this government, Britain and Japan agree to a 5-5-3 ratio on auxiliary ships, while leaving to the actual conference to determine the ratio of France and Italy, is seen here as a deliberate loop-hole to facilitate France's acceptance of the naval conference idea.

The United States, however, is unwilling to recede from its basic position—the reverse of the French position that naval armament must be dealt with separately by the five naval powers, leaving land and air armaments to regional agreements. The president feels that this country cannot reduce its army below present strength of one thousand soldiers to one million population, and also that this government should not interfere in the complicated European land disarmament problem.

DEVICE TO PROJECT MOVIES AND MUSIC

DEMONSTRATED FOR THE PRESS AT NEW YORK THEATRE

AMPLIFYING APPARATUS PLACED ON THE STAGE

New York, Feb. 11.—(UP)—Another device for the simultaneous projection of motion pictures and accompanying music or speech was demonstrated for the press at a New York theatre today.

This device records the music on an outside edge of the film and was developed by the engineers of the Radio Corporation, General Electric and Westinghouse Electric. It is easy to manipulate, the operator of the film projection machine being able to control the music producing apparatus without assistance. A simple cable connection is used to carry the electrical impulses of the music or talk to the amplifying apparatus on the stage.

Complete synchronization is attainable in this development, according to David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation. It differs from other devices where the motion picture film also carries the music in the method of record, an oscillograph is used.

At today's demonstration, it was shown that not only is it possible to record music simultaneously with the taking of motion pictures, but that it is possible to perfect a motion picture and then record an orchestral accompaniment which synchronizes. Several reels of a film which was shown last week at the Capitol Theatre were exhibited together with the accompaniment of the Capitol orchestra.

The method of presenting motion pictures with recorded accompaniments which is now being exhibited at several New York theatres at regular performances, employs the phonograph method, with disc records.

The new device was perfected after years of experiment by scientists and engineers, among whom are C. A. Hoxie, E. W. Kellogg, C. W. Rice, C. W. Hewlett, Irving Langmuir and H. B. Marvin.

TAGGART THINKS ANOTHER DEADLOCK WILL REPEAT 1924

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 11.—(UP)—Convinced that Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York and William McAdoo, of California, will re-stage their epic deadlock of 1924 in the next democratic convention, Thomas Taggart, former Indiana senator and national democratic leader, today was grooming his own favorite to carry the democratic colors in 1928.

Evans Woollen, of Indianapolis, a Yale graduate and banker, is the man sponsored by Taggart. Woollen was defeated for the senate last fall. A former lawyer, born in 1864, Woollen achieved a reputation in business, law and finance in his home city.

Taggart, who is staying here at the Flamingo hotel, said in an interview today that prohibition should not be made a national issue, inasmuch as republicans and democrats are apparently equally interested in the problem.

Other figures in the democratic presidential "guessing bee," Taggart said, included Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, Edwin Thomas Meredith, former secretary of agriculture of Iowa, and Governor A. C. Ritchie, of Maryland.

WRITES STORY ON LIFE OF LINCOLN

Andrew Ofsti Tells in His Own Way
History of Great
Emancipator

IS NIGHT SCHOOL STUDENT

Expresses a Phase of the Learning of Those Seeking
Naturalization

The following story on Abraham Lincoln was written by Andrew Ofsti, student of the Night School and illustrates a phase of the learning imparted by Miss E. Brattvet, teacher, to those seeking naturalization:

Abraham Lincoln
"Abraham Lincoln was born in Kentucky, February 12, 1809 in a rude log cabin. There were no schools in that place, so all he learned was from his mother. She taught him and his sister, how to write and read. Abraham was a smart boy, so he learned easily, and he read all the books he could get hold of.

"When he was about sixteen years old he worked on a river boat on the Mississippi, and he went down to New Orleans. There he saw how they sold slaves, and he told himself, that he would hit that business, and hit it hard too, when he got a chance.

"After a while he got a job in a store, and there he had more time to read, so he studied law. He became a good speaker, and he got elected for the Legislature of the State, Illinois. The people liked him so well, that they appointed him for Senator but he lost out.

"There was a conflict going on in the Congress about slavery. The Southern States wanted to have their slaves, but the Northern States did not want them. Lincoln was against slavery, and he made many speeches against it. The people liked his speeches, especially the North, so they appointed him as a candidate for the Republican party, and he was elected President in 1860.

"The Southern States knew that Lincoln was against slavery, so they said they would no longer belong to the Union, and they wanted the forts and public buildings in their territory, but Lincoln said they could not secede from the rest of the States and could not have any property that belonged to the United States. The Southern States then began the war in 1861. In 1863 Lincoln made a statement, The Emancipation Proclamation, which declared all the slaves that were in the States fighting against the Union should be free.

"The war lasted four years and ended in 1865. The greatest battle was fought at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania and nearly 50,000 soldiers lost their lives. The men were buried there, and the ground became a National cemetery. Lincoln was there and made a speech, which is known as one of the finest speeches in the world.

"He was elected President for another term. About a month after beginning his second term, he was shot one evening at a theatre in 1865 by a half crazed actor."

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1927

"WITH MALICE TOWARD NONE"

CENTRAL Illinois, replete with characters, locations, episodes, which have their part in state and national history, takes with conscious dignity its pre-eminent place at the mention of the name of Lincoln. We quote from the Stanolind Record, issue of February, which carries some very interesting pictures concerning the life of the great emancipator.

His shadow looms, intangible yet omnipresent, throughout the length and breadth of the Illinois section. Here the cradle of his genius; the tempering furnace of his fortitude. From here he went forth to sustain with toil-worn mind and heart the breaking strands of national unity. Here, ageless, through the years, rest his ashes.

Marking the progress of that existence from obscurity to world-wide recognition are cities, towns, localities, familiar to all in the extent of their bearing upon the life of America's greatest president. Old Salem, scene of his earliest endeavors, linked in pathos with the grave of Ann Rutledge; the Sangamon River, whose rapids offered the laboratory for his youthful inventive genius; Peoria, Bloomington, and other theatres of his debating skill and platform mastery. And most significant, fraught in the highest with the indefinable essence of the man, Springfield.

It is impossible to approach the state capital without sensing, in some degree at least, the existence of this vague atmosphere. From the first appearance of the administration building's great dome upon the horizon, the impression manifests itself. This is the community in the midst of which his mighty spirit assumed true proportions; many of the citizens yet living called him friend; his home still stands, venerated by thousands with each passing year; on the grass-crowned knoll in Oak Ridge Cemetery, its granite obelisk sharp against the sky, he rests after his labors.

What wonder, then, that one should feel the emotion inspired of such surroundings. Through the busy streets of the city, to the various spots kept sacred to his memory, as go the pilgrims to their shrines, industry's hum-drum throb comes blending with that reverberated undercurrent of recollection and regret.

On the east balustrade of the magnificent Centennial Building, marking the spot, graven imperishably in the stone, are the last words spoken by Lincoln in the city of his choice.

"My friends: No one not in my situation can appreciate my feeling of sadness at this parting. To this place and to the kindness of these people I owe everything. Here I have lived a quarter of a century, and have passed from a young to an old man. Here my children have been born, and one is buried. I now leave, not knowing when or whether ever I may return, with a task before me greater than that which rested upon Washington.

"Without the assistance of that Divine Being who ever attended him, I cannot succeed. With that assistance I cannot fail. Trusting in Him who can go with me, and remain with you, and be everywhere for good, let us confidently hope that all will yet be well. To His care commending you, as I hope in your prayers you will commend me, I bid you an affectionate farewell."

FEBRUARY'S NOTABLE HOLIDAYS

THE month of February is notable, not only because of its brevity but because it carries in its brief space two holidays very dear to every American.

One day, the twenty-second, honors the Father of our Country and the other, the twelfth, honors the man justly called the Saviour of our Country.

On those two days our U. S. flag will fly from all Government buildings and all public school buildings.

Many a veteran of our past wars will fly the flag from his doorway. The Daughters of the American Revolution are officially urged by their National organization to do honor to these two days with that same quiet beautiful gesture.

But why not a flag from every doorway? This United States flag belongs to every American citizen, not to any particular individual, group or organization whatsoever. Every citizen of the United States may fly the flag from his dwelling and he may do it with humble thanks.

For of all the signs and symbols since the world began there is none other as full of meaning as the flag of this country. That piece of red, white and blue bunting means five thousand years of struggle upward. It is the full grown flower of ages of fighting for liberty. Our flag stands for humanity, for an equal opportunity to all the sons of men.

Other flags mean a glorious past, this flag, a glorious future. It is the flag of tomorrow. It is the signal of the "Good Time Coming." It is not the flag of your king, it is the flag of yourself and all your neighbors.

GUARANTY OF BANK DEPOSITS

THE legislative committee seeking to benefit banking conditions in the state is having hard-headed men of business tell them of conditions in the state and the proper remedies to use.

As reported in the Little Falls Daily Transcript, J. K. Martin, president of the First National bank of Little Falls and also representing the Morrison County Bankers' association, stated: "I can see no form of so-called state bank guaranty of deposits that is workable in a crisis such as we have just passed through."

"There is no question," Mr. Martin continued, "but what fewer banks, larger capital and surplus, more activity on the part of the boards of directors and more rigid examination will help."

"I would recommend fewer and stronger banks, reduction of capital and surplus to be permitted loaned to any one individual or corporation, a greater percentage of assets loaned on liquid securities, payments of lower rate of interest on deposits . . . and encouraging the accumulation of additional surplus for the protection of the stockholder as well as the depositor and exempting same from taxation."

THEY'RE not so remarkable at the Twin City auto show with their phonograph broadcasting. They claim the huge machine on the top of the Overland building will throw music four blocks. Our own W. J. Hall, pioneer in this same broadcasting field, on a clear day has sent his music all the way, up and down our own Laurel street. If it comes to such broadcasting, Mr. Hall and not the Philadelphia concern, is the pioneer in this field.

ACCORDING to census figures 71 new farm homes were established in Crow Wing county in the past five years.

TRUNK HIGHWAYS SHOW IMPROVEMENT

Minnesota trunk highways show a general improvement during the last few days, according to the weekly condition report issued by the State Highway department today. Freezing weather following the thaw left some roads rough and rutted, but general conditions are good. A few stretches still remain closed. These are practically all on roads which have not been graded to standard trunk highway width, and narrow cuts have been filled so deeply that plows cannot go through. They are confined to the northwestern and southeastern parts of the state.

Detailed reports of conditions on the so-called "Babcock roads" follow as far as they refer to the Brainerd Lake Region:

T. H. No. 2—Duluth, Brainerd, Wadena, Detroit Lakes and Moorhead—264 miles. Duluth, paved—Carlton, good—McGregor, fair—Aitkin, good—Brainerd, good—Wadena, good—Detroit Lakes, good—Moorhead.

T. H. No. 18—Elk River, Milaca and Brainerd—102 miles—Elk River good—Princeton, fair—Onamia, good—Brainerd.

T. H. No. 19—Brainerd, Walker and Cass Lake—97 miles—Brainerd, good—Walker, open—Cass Lake.

T. H. No. 27—St. Cloud, Little Falls and Brainerd—66 miles—Paved, good.

THREE COMPANIES UNITE TO BUILD FACTORY AT DULUTH

Duluth, Feb. 11.—(UP)—The Linde Air Products Co., the Prest-O-Lite Carbon company and the Carbide Trust Co., of New York has purchased an 11 acre tract in the western part of this city for the immediate erection of a $1,000,000 plant for the manufacture of oxygen for air products. It was learned today.

Representatives of eastern investors who were in the city Thursday completing final negotiations said the plant will have an annual payroll of about $250,000 at the outset.

DEFENSE TRIES TO TEAR DOWN KILLING STORY

Canton, O., Feb. 11.—(UP)—George Gordon Battle, defense lawyer, attempted today to tear down the story of the killing of Don R. Mellett, Canton editor, told by Steve Kascholk, chief prosecution witness against Ben Rudner, millionaire's son and bootlegger.

Rudner, who the state contends was the chief conspirator in the Mellett murder, was directly incriminated by Kascholk yesterday.

Battle forced an admission from Kascholk in cross-examination "he needed money very badly," at the time he noticed a $27,000 reward offered for arrest and conviction of the Mellett murderers.

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

Feb. 10, 1902

A. J. Johnson has sold to A. D. Peterson his store building and residence on the corner of Norwood and Thirteenth streets. The consideration is said to have been $1,400. Mr. Peterson has sold the above to the Co-operative Mercantile Co.

Hon. A. F. Ferris left last night for St. Paul to attend the balance of the session of the legislature. He was accompanied by Mrs. Ferris who will remain in St. Paul for several days.

W. L. Nolan, of Minneapolis, the noted entertainer, passed through the city this afternoon en route to Aitkin where he will take part in the opening exercises of the new high school auditorium of that city tonight.

Some 15 couples, friends of James

Willis dropped in on him at his home on Ninth street South Saturday night and gave him a good surprise. The evening was spent in playing cards and indulging in other pastimes. Refreshments were served. The new Elks hall in the Gruenhagen building is nearly ready for occupancy. The members of the order expect to use the hall for their next meeting, February 20.

Mrs. W. J. Lewis who has been visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Koop returned to her home in Staples this afternoon.

Frank Weisenberger and A. M. Cleaves were at Duluth yesterday visiting friends, returning last night.

Engineers Stillings and Dubois went to St. Paul Saturday to "ride the goat."

Farther than ever beyond the reach of imitation

SEDAN or COUPE

Every one knows that when announced a year ago, the Pontiac Six was an extraordinary automotive development.

The General Motors Research Staff pioneered Pontiac Six basic design. The great General Motors Proving Ground provided an unparalleled opportunity to perfect that design without regard to time or cost. And General Motors combined purchasing power assured minimum costs on quality materials.

Pontiac Six, $825 to $975. Oakland Six, companion to Pontiac Six, $1025 to $1295. All prices at factory. Bodies by Fisher. Easy to pay on the liberal General Motors Time Payment Plan.

Obviously, the Pontiac Six was then beyond duplication. Obviously, it is today still farther beyond the reach of imitation—

—because the Pontiac Six now carries this important additional attraction to buyers:

In a period of more than a year, it has served tens of thousands of owners in performance, reliability and economical operation, to a degree of satisfaction far beyond their fondest expectations!

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1927

"WITH MALICE TOWARD NONE"

CENTRAL Illinois, replete with characters, locations, episodes, which have their part in state and national history, takes with conscious dignity its pre-eminent place at the mention of the name of Lincoln. We quote from the Stanolind Record, issue of February, which carries some very interesting pictures concerning the life of the great emancipator.

His shadow looms, intangible yet omnipresent, throughout the length and breadth of the Illinois section. Here the cradle of his genius; the tempering furnace of his fortitude. From here he went forth to sustain with toil-worn mind and heart the breaking strands of national unity. Here, ageless, through the years, rest his ashes.

Marking the progress of that existence from obscurity to world-wide recognition are cities, towns, localities, familiar to all in the extent of their bearing upon the life of America's greatest president. Old Salem, scene of his earliest endeavors, linked in pathos with the grave of Ann Rutledge; the Sangamon River, whose rapids offered the laboratory for his youthful inventive genius; Peoria, Bloomington, and other theatres of his debating skill and platform mastery. And most significant, fraught in the highest with the indefinable essence of the man, Springfield.

It is impossible to approach the state capital without sensing, in some degree at least, the existence of this vague atmosphere. From the first appearance of the administration building's great dome upon the horizon, the impression manifests itself. This is the community in the midst of which his mighty spirit assumed true proportions; many of the citizens yet living called him friend; his home still stands, venerated by thousands with each passing year; on the grass-crowned knoll in Oak Ridge Cemetery, its granite obelisk sharp against the sky, he rests after his labors.

What wonder, then, that one should feel the emotion inspired of such surroundings. Through the busy streets of the city, to the various spots kept sacred to his memory, as go the pilgrims to their shrines, industry's hum-drum throb comes blending with that reverberated undercurrent of recollection and regret.

On the east balustrade of the magnificent Centennial Building, marking the spot, graven imperishably in the stone, are the last words spoken by Lincoln in the city of his choice:

"My friends: No one not in my situation can appreciate my feeling of sadness at this parting. To this place and to the kindness of these people I owe everything. Here I have lived a quarter of a century, and have passed from a young to an old man. Here my children have been born, and one is buried. I now leave, not knowing when or whether ever I may return, with a task before me greater than that which rested upon Washington.

"Without the assistance of that Divine Being who ever attended him, I cannot succeed. With that assistance I cannot fail. Trusting in Him who can go with me, and remain with you, and be everywhere for good, let us confidently hope that all will yet be well. To His care commending you, as I hope in your prayers you will commend me, I bid you an affectionate farewell."

FEBRUARY'S NOTABLE HOLIDAYS

THE month of February is notable, not only because of its brevity but because it carries in its brief space two holidays very dear to every American.

One day, the twenty-second, honors the Father of our Country and the other, the twelfth, honors the man justly called the Saviour of our Country.

On those two days our U. S. flag will fly from all Government buildings and all public school buildings.

Many a veteran of our past wars will fly the flag from his doorway. The Daughters of the American Revolution are officially urged by their National organization to do honor to these two days with that same quiet beautiful gesture.

But why not a flag from every doorway? This United States flag belongs to every American citizen, not to any particular individual, group or organization whatsoever. Every citizen of the United States may fly the flag from his dwelling and he may do it with humble thanks.

For of all the signs and symbols since the world began there is none other as full of meaning as the flag of this country. That piece of red, white and blue bunting means five thousand years of struggle upward. It is the full grown flower of ages of fighting for liberty. Our flag stands for humanity, for an equal opportunity to all the sons of men.

Other flags mean a glorious past, this flag, a glorious future. It is the flag of tomorrow. It is the signal of the "Good Time Coming." It is not the flag of your king, it is the flag of yourself and all your neighbors.

GUARANTY OF BANK DEPOSITS

THE legislative committee seeking to benefit banking conditions in the state is having hard-headed men of business tell them of conditions in the state and the proper remedies to use.

As reported in the Little Falls Daily Transcript, J. K. Martin, president of the First National bank of Little Falls and also representing the Morrison County Bankers' association, stated: "I can see no form of so-called state bank guaranty of deposits that is workable in a crisis such as we have just passed through."

"There is no question," Mr. Martin continued, "but what fewer banks, larger capital and surplus, more activity on the part of the boards of directors and more rigid examination will help."

"I would recommend fewer and stronger banks, reduction of capital and surplus to be permitted loaned to any one individual or corporation, a greater percentage of assets loaned on liquid securities, payments of lower rate of interest on deposits . . . and encouraging the accumulation of additional surplus for the protection of the stockholder as well as the depositor and exempting same from taxation."

THEY'RE not so remarkable at the Twin City auto show with their phonograph broadcasting. They claim the huge machine on the top of the Overland building will throw music four blocks. Our own W. J. Hall, pioneer in this same broadcasting field, on a clear day has sent his music all the way, up and down our own Laurel street. If it comes to such broadcasting, Mr. Hall and not the Philadelphia concern, is the pioneer in this field.

ACCORDING to census figures 171 new farm homes were established in Crow Wing county in the past five years.

TRUNK HIGHWAYS
SHOW IMPROVEMENT

Minnesota trunk highways show a general improvement during the last few days, according to the weekly condition report issued by the State Highway department today. Freezing weather following the thaw left some roads rough and rutted, but general conditions are good. A few stretches still remain closed. These are practically all on roads which have not been graded to standard trunk highway width, and narrow cuts have been filled so deeply that plows cannot go through. They are confined to the northwestern and southeastern parts of the state.

Detailed reports of conditions on the so-called "Babcock roads" follow insofar as they refer to the Brainerd Lake Region:

KILLING STORY

Canton, O., Feb. 11.—(UP)—George Gordon Battle, defense lawyer, attempted today to tear down the story of the killing of Don R. Mellett, Canton editor, told by Steve Kascholk, chief prosecution witness against Ben Rudner, millionaire's son and bootlegger.

Rudner, who the state contends was the chief conspirator in the Mellett murder, was directly incriminated by Kascholk yesterday.

Battle forced an admission from Kascholk in cross-examination "he needed money very badly," at the time he noticed a $27,000 reward offered for arrest and conviction of the Mellett murderers.

Every one knows that when announced a year ago, the Pontiac Six was an extraordinary automotive development.

The General Motors Research Staff pioneered Pontiac Six basic design. The great General Motors Proving Ground provided an unparalleled opportunity to perfect that design without regard to time or cost. And General Motors combined purchasing power assured minimum costs on quality materials.

Pontiac Six, $825 to $975. Oakland Six, companion to Pontiac Six, $1025 to $1295. All prices at factory. Bodies by Fisher. Easy to pay on the liberal General Motors Time Payment Plan.

Obviously, the Pontiac Six was then beyond duplication. Obviously, it is today still farther beyond the reach of imitation—

—because the Pontiac Six now carries this important additional attraction to buyers:

In a period of more than a year, it has served tens of thousands of owners in performance, reliability and economical operation, to a degree of satisfaction far beyond their fondest expectations!

Kolster owners constantly state that they marvel at such low prices for the different Kolster models. "Kolster prices could be doubled," they say, "and Kolster sets would still be bargains."

"Everyone who hears my Kolster," one owner says, "is amazed." For Kolster performance proves Kolster superiority. Comparison proves Kolster value—"the greatest today."

BABE RUTH NOW WANTS $100,000 A YEAR

SAYS HE IS WORTH THAT MUCH TO THE YANKEES

"IF THEY WON'T GIVE ME THAT, I'LL QUIT BASEBALL," HE SAID

BABE EXPECTS TO RETURN THE PROFFERED $52,000 CONTRACT SOON

Hollywood, Calif., Feb. 11.—(UP)—Babe Ruth wants $100,000 for playing with the Yankees next season, and if he isn't given a contract for that amount from the New York club he won't be in the Yankee or any other line-up this summer, he said last night.

"I am worth $100,000 to the New York club, and if they won't give me that much I'll quit baseball," Ruth said.

"I have plenty of money and I don't have to worry much about what I do. Of course, I would hate to drop out, because I like baseball. But I want my price and I won't sign for less."

"McGovern and I may team up and start a string of gymnasiums if nothing else turns up," he said, referring to Arthur A. McGovern, New York trainer, who is here helping Ruth condition himself for the season.

"The Babe said he hadn't returned the $52,000 contract offered him. But I'll get it off before Saturday and I won't sign until they make the terms right."

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, Feb. 11.—Babe Ruth, who roared clear across the continent his refusal of a $52,000 a year contract from the New York Yankees, will get just about what he wants on a new paper, it was believed in baseball circles today.

The estimate was that he would get more than $75,000 and possibly $100,000 if he plays his cards.

The $52,000 contract that was shipped to the Babe in Hollywood was only a "feeler," according to Col. Jake Ruppert, owner of the Yankees.

"According to baseball law, Ruth would have been a free agent if he didn't get his new contract before Feb. 15 and we sent him one just as a formality pending a conference with him," Ruppert said.

Broadway was of the opinion that it is all bally-hoo to get Ruth some space ahead of Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker.

Not so long ago it was written of Babe Ruth that he was the biggest figure in baseball and that circumstances had placed him in a position where he should be able to name his own terms on a new contract.

That was before Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker had been cleared of Dutch Leonard's charges that they had bet on a thrown ball game and when it looked like the Babe was the only baseball hero without the suspicion of taint.

Cobb and Speaker were cleared. Cobb came out of it with the best job of his career—a $75,000 spot with the Athletics and Speaker fared almost as well with a $50,000 contract that he never could have gotten from Cleveland.

But the Babe's new contract, Babe said, called for a one year job at $52,000, the same salary he has been getting for three years.

As far as salary offers can be taken as an indication of greatness, Ruth is now No. 3 on the official ranking list but the paying customers know that the Babe is still the No. 1 as a box-office attraction.

The good fortune of Cobb and Speaker was not due to tender hearts on the part of the baseball magnates. The public played the hand. The American League magnates were content to let Cobb and Speaker go their way under a cloud until the public, as represented by the press, forced the hearings that cleared them.

That attitude of the public has made Cobb and Speaker bigger drawing cards than ever.

If Ruth is placed in the position of getting a raw deal, the public certainly will vote the same way.

There is every reason to believe that Ruth will hold out if he doesn't get what he wants. The notice that he had socked away $33,000 in a New York bank as part of his winter earnings was a warning that he is not overgenerous for the time at least upon baseball.

With Rogers Hornsby and Eddie Roush adding luster and life to the Giants, the longer the Babe held out the slower the gates would click at the Yankee stadium.

GIANTS STRENGTHENED FOR 1927 CAMPAIGN

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, Feb. 11.—New York, more than any other team in the National league, has been strengthened for the 1927 pennant race. The weaknesses which cause the surprising collapse of the team last year have been corrected and it is quite likely that the club will start the season as a favorite for the pennant.

As long as there are teams in the league like the champion St. Louis Cardinals, the Cincinnati Reds, the Pittsburgh Pirates and even the Chicago Cubs, those who like the chances of the Giants will not offer odds but none of those teams have plugged up the weak places like John McGraw has.

The Giants will present at least four new faces next season—Rogers Hornsby on second base, Bevo Le Bouveau in the outfield, Burrell Grimes in the box and Al Devormer behind the plate.

With the exception of Hornsby, the names of the newcomers are not enough to strike fear or panic on the rival clubs. It may even be said that McGraw didn't strengthen second base when he traded Frank Frisch for Hornsby.

On the assumption, however, that Hornsby will not be affected by a weak back and the mental hazard of a lot of business troubles, the team should be stronger around second base than it was last year.

Frisch had a bad season last year. He was not in the best of health and he had some difficulties with McGraw that made a change of scenery almost imperative.

Under ordinary circumstances Hornsby ought to hit better than Frisch, as a fielder there is little difference but in the middle of double plays Hornsby is a much better player.

Grimes is no youngster but he is not an old man by any means. He didn't earn his high salary in Brooklyn because of strained relations with the management. Grimes has the reputation of being hard to handle and players find it difficult to get along with him because of an ungovernable temper.

Grimes is much like Carl Mays, of the Reds. When his team falters behind him he hasn't the control to disguise his disgust and that does not add to team morale. McGraw, however, always has liked him for this reason. He likes a hard loser and Grimes is one of the poorest losers in baseball.

Le Bouveau comes back to the major leagues with a great reputation earned in the American association and McGraw seems to be confident that he will be able to hold a regular berth. Then he has Harper, an experienced player, to use in the event that Pep Young is not able to play.

Young has been in very poor health for several years and only recently it was reported from San Antonio that he never would be able to play again. He wrote later to the club, however, insisting that the reports had been exaggerated and that he would report for duty.

Devormer hasn't a great reputation. He didn't make good in the American league but he may have improved. At any rate, McGraw was desperate for a catcher and Devormer at least has more experience than the youngsters McGraw had in 1926.

The Cincinnati Reds, who last year, no doubt will stand on the same team that he picked the experts. Jack Hendricks admits, like any other manager, that he could improve the team but improvements are hard to make and he is satisfied with the squad he has.

There were many critics who thought the Pittsburgh Pirates were the strongest team in the National league last year. If it was only internal dissension that caused them to blow up, they ought to play better this season under Donie Bush, a new manager. It's a dead cinch that they'll have to hustle and do what they are told to do with Bush on the job.

Those who rated the Pirates as first last year and many others thought that the St. Louis Cardinals won a fluke victory but they didn't show signs of inferiority when they went through the world's series with a disorganized outfield and trounced the Yankees.

It is hard to tell what effect the absence of Hornsby and Bill Killefer will have on the team. Bob O'Farrell, who succeeded Hornsby as manager of the club, is certainly a grand player but he has yet to prove himself as a manager. The difficulty that Sam Breadon had in reaching terms with a number of his star players is not good for team spirit but the Cardinals are not the first championship club to go through the same experience.

AITKIN WINS FROM RAINBOWS IN SLOW CONTEST, 30 TO 20

ENGBRETSON STARS WITH SEVEN FIELD GOALS AS MATES FALTER

PETARBORG AND WOOCK BIG SCORERS FOR WINNERS, 3 BASKETS EACH

The Rainbows went to Aitkin last night with a do or die spirit, in an attempt to do what no Brainerd team has heretofore accomplished, win from the Aitkin Co. B. dribblers on their own floor. The "do" spirit died shortly after the opening of the game, however, and the best that was gained was a defeat by a closer score than ever before, the final tally of the records showing a 30 to 20 count in favor of the home guards.

With the defeat, though, arose another conviction of the worth and value of one of the Brainerd players, by name Wally Engbretson, of whom several Brainerd fans have already heard mention. The above named quadman outshone and outplayed even the best that Aitkin had to display, his work for the evening resulting in seven field goals and one free throw, besides sundry other duties nobly done, such as breaking up Aitkin plays, beautiful passing to his mates in splendid position under the basket on numerous occasions, only to have the chance muffed with an overshoot at the hoop by said mate, and other tasks as well.

Fitzsimmons and Orth did some great work guarding, but the big floor of the armory gave them plenty of stepping to do, and the elusive Petarborg and Miller slid by enough times to count a victory.

Petarborg, Woock and Hassman did the chief scoring for the winners, with three field goals each, while Miller and Boekenooen had two apiece, and Knight one.

A number of Brainerd fans took the evening train to Aitkin to see the game, but had to leave before the final whistle to catch the late train back to Brainerd.

Tomorrow night the Rainbows will face the Cold Springs team in the local high school in the last game but one on the Rainbows home schedule. The game promises to be fast and furious, and fans will be given a fine exhibition of playing.

Cold Springs is rated high among the basketball fraternity of the St. Cloud district. They hold victories over St. Cloud and Foley, besides a number of other fast teams of that part of the state.

The Rainbows will have a full team with all their players in uniform, out to raise their winning percentage. The line-up is still somewhat in doubt. Fans are urged to attend the game, and help the Rainbows clear up some of the losses incurred in the last two or three games at home, when the teams were brought here under heavy guarantees, and the gate did not equal the expenses.

CHARGES OF "INSIDE BUSINESS" IN PRIZE FIGHT

CHARLEY ROSENBERG-BUSHEY GRAHAM BOUT PROBED

NEW YORK BOXING COMMISSION TAKES ACTION TODAY

New York, Feb. 11.—Charley Rosenberg and Bushey Graham, principals in the recent bantamweight fight here, were each suspended for one year by the boxing commission today.

The two managers, Harry Segal, Rosenberg's pilot, and William Parr, manager of Graham, had their licenses revoked by the commission.

The commission found Parr and Segal guilty of arranging a double set of contracts, which violated the state laws governing boxing. Jess McMahan, Tex Rickard's matchmaker in the fight, had his license revoked for an indefinite period.

In a statement the commission said the suspensions and license revocations "in no way reflected upon the honesty of the contest."

New York, Feb. 11.—(UP)—Charges that "inside business" was done before the recent bantamweight championship fight between Charley Rosenberg and Bushey Graham were being investigated today by the New York boxing commission.

Rosenberg and his manager, Harry Segal; Graham and his manager, William Parr, and Tex Rickard, William Carey, William Walters and Jess McMahan were subpoenaed to tell what they knew about the manipulation of contracts entered into between the managers of the two boxers.

On the surface it was charged that the rules of the commission covering contracts for the purses in championship fights were violated but underneath an effort will be made to learn how much, if any, the big gamblers cleaned up on advance information.

Rosenberg was four and half pounds overweight and forfeited the title before he entered the ring but he won the decision from Graham and the title was declared vacant.

The rules of the commission provide that 37 1/2 per cent of the receipts shall be paid to the champion in a championship match and 17 1/2 per cent to the challenger. The commission, however, charges that a second contract between the managers was drawn giving Graham only five per cent of his purse.

Segal, Rosenberg's manager, practically admitted such an arrangement was made and claimed it a common practice for a champion to get a kickback from the challenger for risking his title.

He claims the Mandell-Kansas lightweight championship fight and the Walker-Flowers middleweight championship fight had to be underwritten by the challengers.

"I never knew it was in the New York law that a champion's manager couldn't accept a gift from the challenger and that's all we got. We had to give one before Eddie Marton would fight Rosenberg," he said.

Segal denied blame because Rosenberg was not at weight and had to forfeit the title. He pointed out that he asked the commission for a postponement because Rosenberg might not be able to make the weight and that he was forced to fight.

The commission was interested to know how long in advance the gamblers knew that Rosenberg would not make the weight and how they were wise enough to bet that Rosenberg would win the decision and at the same time that he would lose the title.

Rickard and McMahan said they were not responsible for agreements between managers on finances and that they made out the checks to the fighters according to the rules.

SPUG MEYERS DEFEATS CALLAHAN

EARNs CLEAR DECISION IN TEN ROUNDS OF BOXING

Chicago, Feb. 11.—(UP)—Spug Meyers, a shifty, hard hitting Pocatello, Idaho, boxer, last night earned a clear decision in 10 rounds over Mushy Callahan, Los Angeles, holder of the junior welterweight title. The championship was not at stake.

The two mixed freely in the early rounds and in the fifth Callahan shot over a right cross which staggered Meyers.

From then on the Idaho fighter had a wide edge and in the ninth round the champion was hanging on to the ropes. The final round was furious, with little science in evidence, but the pace had been too telling and neither fighter had much power left in his punches.

My Sullivan of St. Paul earned a technical knockout over Len Malody in the sixth round of their six round fight. Sullivan gave Malody an unmerciful beating.

"IF THEY WON'T GIVE ME THAT, I'LL QUIT BASEBALL," HE SAID

BABE EXPECTS TO RETURN THE PROFFERED $52,000 CONTRACT SOON

Hollywood, Calif., Feb. 11.—(UP)—Babe Ruth wants $100,000 for playing with the Yankees next season, and if he isn't given a contract for that amount from the New York club he won't be in the Yankee or any other line-up this summer, he said last night.

"I am worth $100,000 to the New York club, and if they won't give me that much I'll quit baseball," Ruth said.

"I have plenty of money and I don't have to worry much about what I do. Of course, I would hate to drop out, because I like baseball. But I want my price and I won't sign for less."

"McGovern and I may team up and start a string of gymnasiums if nothing else turns up," he said, referring to Arthur A. McGovern, New York trainer, who is here helping Ruth condition himself for the season.

"The Babe said he hadn't returned the $52,000 contract offered him, but I'll get it off before Saturday and I won't sign until they make the terms right."

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Feb. 11.—Babe Ruth, who roared clear across the continent his refusal of a $52,000 a year contract from the New York Yankees, will get just about what he wants on a new paper, it was believed in baseball circles today.

The estimate was that he would get more than $75,000 and possibly $100,000 if he plays his cards.

The $52,000 contract that was shipped to the Babe in Hollywood was only a "feeler," according to Col. Jake Ruppert, owner of the Yankees.

"According to baseball law, Ruth would have been a free agent if he didn't get his new contract before Feb. 15 and we sent him one just as a formality pending a conference with him," Ruppert said.

Broadway was of the opinion that it is all bally-hoo to get Ruth some space ahead of Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker.

Not so long ago it was written of Babe Ruth that he was the biggest figure in baseball and that circumstances had placed him in a position where he should be able to name his own terms on a new contract.

That was before Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker had been cleared of Dutch Leonard's charges that they had bet on a thrown ball game and when it looked like the Babe was the only baseball hero without the suspicion of taint.

Cobb and Speaker were cleared. Cobb came out of it with the best job of his career—a $75,000 spot with the Athletics and Speaker fared almost as well with a $50,000 contract that he never could have gotten from Cleveland.

But the Babe's new contract, Babe said, called for a one year job at $52,000, the same salary he has been getting for three years.

As far as salary offers can be taken as an indication of greatness, Ruth is now No. 3 on the official ranking list but the paying customers know that the Babe is still the No. 1 as a box-office attraction.

The good fortune of Cobb and Speaker was not due to tender heart, on the part of the baseball magnates. The public played the hand. The American League magnates were content to let Cobb and Speaker go their way under a cloud until the public, as represented by the press, forced the hearings that cleared them.

That attitude of the public has made Cobb and Speaker bigger drawing cards than ever.

If Ruth is placed in the position of getting a raw deal, the public certainly will vote the same way.

There is every reason to believe that Ruth will hold out if he doesn't get what he wants. The notice that he had socked away $33,000 in a New York bank as part of his winter earnings was a warning that he was not going to be for the time at least upon baseball.

With Rogers Hornsby and Eddie Roush adding luster and life to the Giants, the longer the Babe held out the slower the gates would click at the Yankee stadium.

GIANTS STRENGTHENED FOR 1927 CAMPAIGN

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Feb. 11.—New York, more than any other team in the National league, has been strengthened for the 1927 pennant race. The weaknesses which cause the surprising collapse of the team last year have been corrected and it is quite likely that the club will start the season as a favorite for the pennant.

As long as there are teams in the league like the champion St. Louis Cardinals, the Cincinnati Reds, the Pittsburgh Pirates and even the Chicago Cubs, those who like the chances of the Giants will not offer odds but none of those teams have plugged up the weak places like John McGraw has.

The Giants will present at least four new faces next season—Rogers Hornsby on second base, Bevo Le Bouveau in the outfield, Burleigh Grimes in the box and Al Devormer behind the plate.

With the exception of Hornsby, the names of the newcomers are not enough to strike fear or panic on the rival clubs. It may even be said that McGraw didn't strengthen second base when he traded Frank Frisch for Hornsby.

On the assumption, however, that Hornsby will not be affected by a weak back and the mental hazard of a lot of business troubles, the team should be stronger around second base than it was last year.

Frisch had a bad season last year. He was not in the best of health and he had some difficulties with McGraw that made a change of scenery almost imperative.

Under ordinary circumstances Hornsby ought to hit better than Frisch, as a fielder there is little difference but in the middle of double plays Hornsby is a much better player.

Grimes is no youngster but he is not an old man by any means. He didn't earn his high salary in Brooklyn because of strained relations with the management. Grimes has the reputation of being hard to handle and players find it difficult to get along with him because of an ungovernable temper.

Grimes is much like Carl Mays, of the Reds. When his team falters behind him he hasn't the control to disguise his disgust and that does not add to team morale. McGraw, however, always has liked him for this reason. He likes a hard loser and Grimes is one of the poorest losers in baseball.

Le Bouveau comes back to the major leagues with a great reputation earned in the American association and McGraw seems to be confident that he will be able to hold a regular berth. Then he has Harper, an experienced player, to use in the event that Pep Young is not able to play.

Young has been in very poor health for several years and only recently it was reported from San Antonio that he never would be able to play again. He wrote later to the club, however, insisting that the reports had been exaggerated and that he would report for duty.

Devormer hasn't a great reputation. He didn't make good in the American league but he may have improved. At any rate, McGraw was desperate for a catcher and Devormer at least has more experience than the youngsters McGraw had in 1926.

The Cincinnati Reds, running up last year, no doubt will stand on the same team that so pleased the experts. Jack Hendricks admits, like any other manager, that he could improve the team but improvements are hard to make and he is satisfied with the squad he has.

There were many critics who thought the Pittsburgh Pirates were the strongest team in the National league last year. If it was only internal dissension that caused them to blow up, they ought to play better this season under Donie Bush, a new manager. It's a dead cinch that they'll have to hustle and do what they are told to do with Bush on the job.

Those who rated the Pirates as first last year and many others thought that the St. Louis Cardinals won a fluke victory but they didn't show signs of inferiority when they went through the world's series with a disorganized outfield and trounced the Yankees.

It is hard to tell what effect the absence of Hornsby and Bill Killefer will have on the team. Bob O'Farrell, who succeeded Hornsby as manager of the club, is certainly a grand player but he has yet to prove himself as a manager. The difficulty that Sam Breadon had in reaching terms with a number of his star players is not good for team spirit but the Cardinals are not the first championship club to go through the same experience.

ENGBRETSON STARS WITH SEVEN FIELD GOALS AS MATES FALTER

PETARBORG AND WOOCK BIG SCORERS FOR WINNERS, 3 BASKETS EACH

The Rainbows went to Aitkin last night with a do or die spirit, in an attempt to do what no Brainerd team has heretofore accomplished, win from the Aitkin Co. B. dribblers on their own floor. The "do" spirit died shortly after the opening of the game, however, and the best that was gained was a defeat by a closer score than ever before, the final tally of the records showing a 30 to 20 count in favor of the home guards.

With the defeat, though, arose another conviction of the worth and value of one of the Brainerd players, by name Wally Engbretson, of whom several Brainerd fans have already heard mention. The above named squadman outshone and outplayed even the best that Aitkin had to display, his work for the evening resulting in seven field goals and one free throw, besides sundry other duties nobly done, such as breaking up Aitkin plays, beautiful passing to his mates in splendid position under the basket on numerous occasions, only to have the chance muffed with an overshoot at the hoop by said mate, and other tasks as well.

Fitzsimmons and Orth did some great work guarding, but the big floor of the armory gave them plenty of stepping to do, and the elusive Petarborg and Miller slid by enough times to count a victory.

Petarborg, Woock and Hassman did the chief scoring for the winners, with three field goals each, while Miller and Boekennoogen had two apiece, and Knight one.

A number of Brainerd fans took the evening train to Aitkin to see the game, but had to leave before the final whistle to catch the late train back to Brainerd.

Tomorrow night the Rainbows will face the Cold Springs team in the local high school in the last game but one on the Rainbows home schedule. The game promises to be fast and furious, and fans will be given a fine exhibition of playing.

Cold Springs is rated high among the basketball fraternity of the St. Cloud district. They hold victories over St. Cloud and Foley, besides a number of other fast teams of that part of the state.

The Rainbows will have a full team with all their players in uniform, out to raise their winning percentage. The line-up is still somewhat in doubt. Fans are urged to attend the game, and help the Rainbows clear up some of the losses incurred in the last two or three games at home, when the teams were brought here under heavy guarantees, and the gate did not equal the expenses.

CHARGES OF "INSIDE BUSINESS" IN PRIZE FIGHT

CHARLEY ROSENBERG-BUSHEY GRAHAM BOUT PROBED

NEW YORK BOXING COMMISSION TAKES ACTION TODAY

New York, Feb. 11.—Charley Rosenberg and Bushey Graham, principals in the recent bantamweight fight here, were each suspended for one year by the boxing commission today.

The two managers, Harry Segal, Rosenberg's pilot, and William Parr, manager of Graham, had their licenses revoked by the commission.

The commission found Parr and Segal guilty of arranging a double set of contracts, which violated the state laws governing boxing. Jess McMahon, Tex Rickard's matchmaker in the fight, had his license revoked for an indefinite period.

In a statement the commission said the suspensions and license revocations "in no way reflected upon the honesty of the contest."

New York, Feb. 11.—(UP)—Charges that "inside business" was done before the recent bantamweight championship fight between Charley Rosenberg and Bushey Graham were being investigated today by the New York boxing commission.

Rosenberg and his manager, Harry Segal; Graham and his manager, William Parr, and Tex Rickard, William Carey, William Walters and Jess McMahon were subpoenaed to tell what they knew about the manipulation of contracts entered into between the managers of the two boxers.

On the surface it was charged that the rules of the commission covering contracts for the purses in championship fights were violated but underneath an effort will be made to learn how much, if any, the big gamblers cleaned up on advance information.

Rosenberg was four and half pounds overweight and forfeited the title before he entered the ring but he won the decision from Graham and the title was declared vacant.

The rules of the commission provide that 37½ per cent of the receipts shall be paid to the champion in a championship match and 17½ per cent to the challenger. The commission, however, charges that a second contract between the managers was drawn giving Graham only five per cent of his purse.

Segal, Rosenberg's manager, practically admitted such an arrangement was made and claimed it a common practice for a champion to get a kickback from the challenger for risking his title.

He claims the Mandell-Kansas lightweight championship fight and the Walker-Flowers middleweight championship fight had to be underwritten by the challengers.

"I never knew it was in the New York law that a champion's manager couldn't accept a gift from the challenger and that's all we got. We had to give one before Eddie Marton would fight Rosenberg," he said.

Segal denied blame because Rosenberg was not at weight and had to forfeit the title. He pointed out that he asked the commission for a postponement because Rosenberg might not be able to make the weight and that he was forced to fight.

The commission was interested to know how long in advance the gamblers knew that Rosenberg would not make the weight and how they were wise enough to bet that Rosenberg would win the decision and at the same time that he would lose the title.

Rickard and McMahon said they were not responsible for agreements between managers on finances and that they made out the checks to the fighters according to the rules.

SPUG MEYERS DEFEATS CALLAHAN

EARNs CLEAR DECISION IN TEN ROUNDS OF BOXING

Chicago, Feb. 11.—(UP)—Spug Meyers, a shifty, hard hitting Pocatello, Idaho, boxer, last night earned a clear decision in 10 rounds over Mushy Callahan, Los Angeles, holder of the Junior welterweight title. The championship was not at stake.

The two mixed freely in the early rounds and in the fifth Callahan shot over a right cross which staggered Meyers.

From then on the Idaho fighter had a wide edge and in the ninth round the champion was hanging on to the ropes. The final round was furious, with little science in evidence, but the pace had been too telling and neither fighter had much power left in his punches.

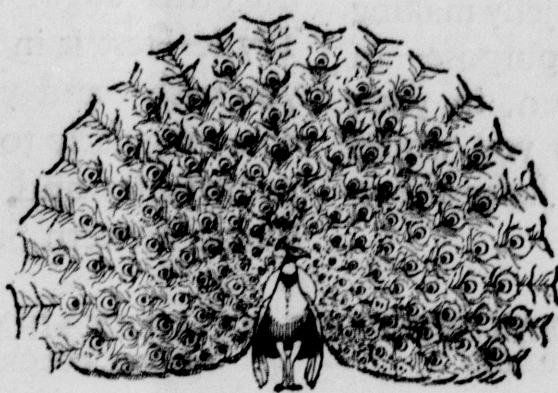

My Sullivan of St. Paul earned a technical knockout over Len Malody in the sixth round of their six round fight. Sullivan gave Malody an unmerciful beating.

SEARCH FOR OTHER PARTS OF WOMAN WHO WAS DISMEMBERED

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 11.—(UP)

A search was underway along the banks of the St. Joseph river today to find additional parts of the body of a woman, whose torso was found floating in the river late yesterday.

The head and neck had been severed from the body in expert fashion, authorities say, giving rise to the belief the woman had been murdered and the body dismembered by some one with a slight knowledge of surgery.

Authorities so far have been unable to find the head. The parts found were in such a cramped position that authorities believe the woman may have been murdered and that her murderers attempted to stuff the body in a box or trunk.

They say the body is that of a woman about 30 years old. No one of that age has been reported missing from the towns along the St. Joseph.

HEDDA HOYT TELLS OF SPRING STYLES

By HEDDA HOYT

New York, Feb. 11.—(UP)—Short sleeves return! But they're to be worn under snappy little jackets and there is no evidence of us being short-sleeved for street wear as we were a couple of years ago. The Spring vogue for short jackets is responsible for the return of sleeveless frocks and jumpers and many women will welcome short-sleeved comfort.

Cloth sports coats, spotted and stenciled in imitation of spotted furs and reptilian skins, are well represented among Spring fashions. Spotted calf fur, which played such an important part this Winter, is being imitated in cloth and we see many white coats mottled in black. More interesting than these calf fur imitations are reptilian weaves carried out in natural reptile colors and shadings. Some very attractive sports coats have snake skin designs.

Narrow band brassieres can now be purchased in an assortment of colors including nude, light green, yellow, pink, turquoise, beige and black. Slender figures seem to prefer the combination of band brassier and bloomers or step-ins to other types of lingerie and the latest idea is to keep these garments in color harmony with the frock.

Returning to the normal waist line via the double belt route is a new Spring idea. Many new frocks use two belts, one placed at the top of the hips and the other at the normal waist line. In no instance is the waist line belt drawn tightly about the body, since it is merely used as a land mark.

Square neck lines are introduced on numerous Spring gowns. They will be found becoming to slender-faced women since they have a tendency to broaden the face and emphasize the chin. High collars, V-shaped and round neck lines, also continue to be worn and each type has its advantages. High collars shorten the face and make it appear rounder. V-neck lines lengthen the face and neck. Round necks tend to make the face appear more oval and soften the chin line.

SEARCH FOR OTHER PARTS OF WOMAN WHO WAS DISMEMBERED

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 11.—(UP)—A search was underway along the banks of the St. Joseph river today to find additional parts of the body of a woman, whose torso was found floating in the river late yesterday.

The head and neck had been severed from the body in expert fashion, authorities say, giving rise to the belief the woman had been murdered and the body dismembered by someone with a slight knowledge of surgery.

Authorities so far have been unable to find the head. The parts found were in such a cramped position that authorities believe the woman may have been murdered and that her murderers attempted to stuff the body in a box or trunk.

They say the body is that of a woman about 30 years old. No one of that age has been reported missing from the towns along the St. Joseph.

HEDDA HOYT TELLS OF SPRING STYLES

By HEDDA HOYT

New York, Feb. 11.—(UP)—Short sleeves return! But they're to be worn under snappy little jackets and there is no evidence of us being short-sleeved for street wear as we were a couple of years ago. The Spring vogue for short jackets is responsible for the return of sleeveless frocks and jumpers and many women will welcome short-sleeved comfort.

Cloth sports coats, spotted and stenciled in imitation of spotted furs and reptilian skins, are well represented among Spring fashions. Spotted calf fur, which played such an important part this Winter, is being imitated in cloth and we see many white coats mottled in black. More interesting than these calf fur imitations are reptilian weaves carried out in natural reptile colors and shadings. Some very attractive sports coats have snake skin designs.

Narrow band brassieres can now be purchased in an assortment of colors including nude, light green, yellow, pink, turquoise, beige and black. Slender figures seem to prefer the combination of band brassier and bloomers or step-ins to other types of lingerie and the latest idea is to keep these garments in color harmony with the frock.

Returning to the normal waist line via the double belt route is a new Spring idea. Many new frocks use two belts, one placed at the top of the hips and the other at the normal waist line. In no instance is the waist line belt drawn tightly about the body, since it is merely used as a land mark.

Square neck lines are introduced on numerous Spring gowns. They will be found becoming to slender-faced women since they have a tendency to broaden the face and emphasize the chin. High collars, V-shaped and round neck lines, also continue to be worn and each type has its advantages. High collars shorten the face and make it appear rounder. V-neck lines lengthen the face and neck. Round necks tend to make the face appear more oval and soften the chin line.

Coats with V-shaped trimming extending down the back are included among Spring models. Strips of material or stitchery are used to form the deep rear V-effect.

DEFENDS ANTI EVOLUTION BILL.

Dr. Gerald B. Winrod, Wichita, Kan., Addresses Audience Last Evening

IN FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Arthur I. Brown to Speak Tonight on "Men, Monkeys and Missing Links"

Speaking on the subject of evolution, in defense of the proposed anti-evolution bill which is coming before the state legislature in a few days, Dr. Gerald B. Winrod of Wichita, Kansas addressed a large audience in the First Baptist church last night. Arthur I. Brown, M. D., C. M., F. R. C. S. E., of Vancouver, B. C., will speak tonight on "Men, Monkeys and Missing Links."

Mr. Winrod spoke at length. He dealt with the subject from the religious, scientific and moral sides. He declared that Darwin's theory of the "survival of the fittest" carried to its logical end by Nietzsche the German educator laid the foundation for the World War. He also said that evolution by producing an "animalistic psychology" in Russia wrecked that country and has produced 335,000 boys and girls under ten years of age with no one to call mother or father and no place to call home.

"This jungle doctrine will put America into a seething pit of anarchy within ten years if not checked," he declared.

"Evolution in the schools and Christianity in America cannot both survive permanently. One will have to go. Evolution blasts away every foundation stone upon which Christianity is built. The logical product of evolution is atheism."

The speaker dealt with the scientific claims made by evolutionists and said, "there is not a single proved scientific fact to sustain the hypothesis."

He had text books used generally over Minnesota to teach evolution in the high schools and read many extracts from them. Among other books thus exposed were, "The New Biology" by Smallwood, Revery and Bailey, "Civic Biology" by Hunter, "Elementary Biology" by Gruenberg and "Biology for Beginners" by Moon.

Just the Right Hose For All Occasions

Not always do we want just the same hose. It may be that for some times you will want a color to match a special frock and at another time you may want one of an entirely different weight.

Perhaps for one a lovely chiffon of the lighter or even the heavier weight would be just the hose. But for a different occasion you would want a more serviceable stocking.

Then you might need a heavy ribbed hose for sport wear or a fine silk and wool hose for cold weather.

These are the sort of hose you will find here in either of the famous lines, Gotham Gold Stripe or Phoenix, both of which are the leading stockings of their kind.

Hares and Rabbits

The meat of hares and rabbits is quite similar; both live entirely upon vegetable matter. The flesh of the former is dark and dry in comparison with the latter, which is in some respects superior, being more savory and of higher flavor.

Just the Right Hose For All Occasions

Not always do we want just the same hose. It may be that for some times you will want a color to match a special frock and at another time you may want one of an entirely different weight.

Perhaps for one a lovely chiffon of the lighter or even the heavier weight would be just the hose. But for a different occasion you would want a more serviceable stocking.

Then you might need a heavy ribbed hose for sport wear or a fine silk and wool hose for cold weather.

These are the sort of hose you will find here in either of the famous lines, Gotham Gold Stripe or Phoenix, both of which are the leading stockings of their kind.

United States Townships

Advanced Civics says: "The origin of the townships in the United States dates to 1703. This law further provided that the supervisors of several townships should meet at the county seat as a board of country supervisors."

METHODS

SUCH influences as steady employment, wholesome living conditions, a just wage, make for continuous peak production at the Ford Coal Mines. Indeed, the price of Ford Coal is not influenced by labor discontent or car shortage.

Ford Coal, economically shipped to the Northwest, is precisely the same kind of fuel used by the Ford Industries. That is the best proof of its superior heating power. And this high-test fuel involves less shoveling, less attention on your part. (No clinkers and scarcely any ash.)

You may buy Ford Coal in all standard sizes. See your dealer today! He can guarantee you a continuous supply.

was ready to extend to auxiliary craft the 5-5-3-1.67-1.67 ratio actually applied to capital ships and aircraft carriers. But Britain is not expected to sign any treaty which destroys her present dominance over France in cruisers and destroyers as opposed to French submarine strength.

Great Britain, which now has a cruiser strength of 332,299 tons including ships appropriated for—compared with 125,000 tons American strength—is understood to be unwilling to make a material cut in cruiser strength to effect an equality with the United States. From the British point of view, cruiser equality with the United States would have to be achieved over a long period, with British supremacy maintained in the interim until American building caught up with the British tonnage. Cruisers are Britain's chief means of naval communication with her far-flung empire.

Japan last summer was credited informally with a Geneva proposal similar to the president's, and is therefore expected to stand with the United States in the present situation. Japan is said to feel that she will be at a financial disadvantage in any unrestricted armament race with the United States and Great Britain.

The president's proposal would not affect the Geneva preparatory commission, which will reconvene on March 21 to study possibilities of a general arms conference with power to act on naval armament without waiting for an indefinite general conference.

RECEPTION IN JAPAN APPEARS FAVORABLE

Tokio, Feb. 11.—Afternoon newspapers were in substantial agreement here today that Japan would accept President Coolidge's disarmament conference proposal but would not favor limitation of cruisers on a 5-5-3 basis.

The foreign office, while refusing to express a definite attitude, said Japan will be found ready to participate in the proposed disarmament conference.

A spokesman for the navy office pointed out that Japan, France and Italy had already subscribed to the resolution of the Geneva experts regarding naval limitations on a basis of total tonnage, and while not opposing the Coolidge proposal, Japan along with the other powers, would have to take into consideration the resolution already favored.

Geneva, Feb. 11.—League of Nations spokesmen today were doubtful of success for President Coolidge's suggestion that limitation of naval armament be extended from capital ships to auxiliary classes—cruisers, destroyers and submarines.

The United Press was informed at the secretariat that the League sought disarmament from whatever direction it might arrive and would welcome any movement toward disarmament whether originating in or out of the League.

Doubts of the success of Mr. Coolidge's proposals was explained as having been based on the following reasons:

1. Lord Cecil, representing Britain at Geneva, definitely announced that no outside disarmament proposal could be considered until the League's disarmament conference had finished its work because of the necessity for concentration on the work in hand.

2. France and Italy throughout the League's preliminary discussion of disarmament insisted steadfastly that naval disarmament was intrinsically linked with the whole armaments problem and could not be treated separately.

By CLIFFORD L. DAY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, Feb. 11.—Great Britain is ready to co-operate with President Coolidge for further limitation of naval armament, the United Press was authoritatively informed today.

On the whole, a British spokesman told the United Press, the government's reaction to the president's suggestion that naval limitation be extended to cruisers, destroyers and submarines "undoubtedly was very favorable."

It was learned that Britain's policy had not changed since the Washington conference of 1922. It would be the same, the spokesman said, as that expounded at that time by Lord Balfour. The attitude of the government was that anything giving an impetus to the cause of disarmament would be "all to the good for the peace of the world."

The British press, however, was divided regarding the president's suggestion. News of it was strikingly subordinated in today's papers although the memorandum delivered by Ambassador Alanson B. Houghton to the foreign office had been available since yesterday afternoon.

By A. L. BRADFORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, Feb. 11.—Although the government will examine President Coolidge's naval disarmament proposals for the first time at tomorrow's cabinet meeting, the impression today in authoritative diplomatic quarters was that France would find it impossible to accept his suggestion for further limitation of armaments.

SENTENCED ROBBING RAIL MAIL CAR

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 11.—(UP)—Louis Roy and George Irvine, both of Minneapolis, were sentenced to 25 years in the federal penitentiary late Thursday for robbery of a Soo Line mail car at Hankinson, N. D., last July.

Judge Andrew Miller in United States district court pronounced sentence of the two men who held up Frank Adams, mail clerk, and escaped with four sacks of mail valued at $2,500.

Capture of the pair was effected two hours after the holdup.

Early Life Insurance

Originally life insurance was not much more than an incident of marine insurance. When the success or failure of a voyage depended largely on the personal qualities of the master of the ship, the owners of ship and cargo would insure themselves not only against the perils of deep, but also against the danger of loss through the death of the master—that is, they took out insurance on the life of the master for the voyage. These early life insurance policies were written by individuals long before life insurance companies came into existence. The earliest policy of which anything definite is known was issued in London in 1583, insuring the life of one William Cybbon for 12 months. This was underwritten by 13 persons acting individually; the premium was $80 per thousand. A similar policy would cost today about $10, at age thirty-five.

Storms and Headaches

Each of us is carrying through life an enormous weight in the form of the pressure of the outside atmosphere upon our bodies. We don't it is true, notice it, because inside our bodies is another pressure (in our blood, and so forth) which exactly balances the outside pressure.

Were it not for this equalizing pressure, we should experience grave discomfort just as do mountain explorers who go to great heights where the air is "thinner."

Roughly speaking, this is generally what causes many people trouble in a thunderstorm. The atmospheric pressure alters suddenly and disturbs the balance, with the result that the arteries swell up and probably affect the brain and nerve centers, causing a headache.

The plane is being assembled at Bristol, Pa.

Good News for Skinny Folks

Increase Your Weight 10 or 15 Pounds

When you are underweight, it is the surest sign that the food you eat does not give you the nourishment you need to be strong and healthy and full of vitality. Put some good solid flesh on your bones, nourish the tissues properly and you will feel like a fighting cock.

Nothing acts so quickly and surely to correct the nutritive processes as a scientific digestive stimulant. Science tells us that stimulation of the digestive organs supplies the nourishment our bodies must have to grow healthy and to have the power to resist disease and to fight the breaking down of the life forces.

A remarkable stimulant- tonic has been devised for just such conditions as these. It is delightfully palatable and is prepared by an old Virginia concern in business for nearly a century. Druggists and physicians have come to know this stimulant as "Old Monticello Tonic." Get a bottle today from your druggist, take a small wineglass full before your next meal—see how much better you eat—feel the glow of stimulated functions throughout the body. A few days' treatment will bring a quick change in run-down conditions and overcome lack of energy.—Adv.

Apply Sulphur as Told When Your Skin Breaks Out

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Menthosulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. It seldom fails to remove the torment and disfigurement, and you do not have to wait for relief from embarrassment. Improvement quickly shows. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Rowles Menthosulphur from any good druggist.—Adv.

APPROVAL AT HOME, PARTLY HOSTILE OPINION ABROAD

was ready to extend to auxiliary craft the 5-5-3-1.67-1.67 ratio actually applied to capital ships and aircraft carriers. But Britain is not expected to sign any treaty which destroys her present dominance over France in cruisers and destroyers as opposed to French submarine strength.

Great Britain, which now has a cruiser strength of 332,290 tons including ships appropriated for—compared with 125,000 tons American strength—is understood to be unwilling to make a material cut in cruiser strength to effect an equality with the United States. From the British point of view, cruiser equality with the United States would have to be achieved over a long period, with British supremacy maintained in the interim until American building caught up with the British tonnage. Cruisers are Britain's chief means of naval communication with her far-flung empire.

Japan last summer was credited informally with a Geneva proposal similar to the president's, and is therefore expected to stand with the United States in the present situation. Japan is said to feel that she will be at a financial disadvantage in any unrestricted armament race with the United States and Great Britain.

The president's proposal would not affect the Geneva preparatory commission, which will reconvene on March 21 to study possibilities of a general arms conference with power to act on naval armament without waiting for an indefinite general conference.

RECEPTION IN JAPAN APPEARS FAVORABLE

Tokio, Feb. 11.—Afternoon newspapers were in substantial agreement here today that Japan would accept President Coolidge's disarmament conference proposal but would not favor limitation of cruisers on a 5-5-3 basis.

The foreign office, while refusing to express a definite attitude, said Japan will be found ready to participate in the proposed disarmament conference.

A spokesman for the navy office pointed out that Japan, France and Italy had already subscribed to the resolution of the Geneva experts regarding naval limitations on a basis of total tonnage, and while not opposing the Coolidge proposal, Japan along with the other powers, would have to take into consideration the resolution already favored.

Geneva, Feb. 11.—League of Nations spokesmen today were doubtful of success for President Coolidge's suggestion that limitation of naval armament be extended from capital ships to auxiliary classes—cruisers, destroyers and submarines.

The United Press was informed at the secretariat that the League sought disarmament from whatever direction it might arrive and would welcome any movement toward disarmament whether originating in or out of the League.

Doubts of the success of Mr. Coolidge's proposals was explained as having been based on the following reasons:

1. Lord Cecil, representing Britain at Geneva, definitely announced that no outside disarmament proposal could be considered until the League's disarmament conference had finished its work because of the necessity for concentration on the work in hand.

2. France and Italy throughout the League preliminary discussion of disarmament insisted steadfastly that naval disarmament was intrinsically linked with the whole armaments problem and could not be treated separately.

By CLIFFORD L. DAY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, Feb. 11.—Great Britain is ready to co-operate with President Coolidge for further limitation of naval armament, the United Press was authoritatively informed today.

On the whole, a British spokesman told the United Press, the government's reaction to the president's suggestion that naval limitation be extended to cruisers, destroyers and submarines "undoubtedly was very favorable."

It was learned that Britain's policy had not changed since the Washington conference of 1922. It would be the same, the spokesman said, as that expounded at that time by Lord Balfour. The attitude of the government was that anything giving an impetus to the cause of disarmament would be "all to the good for the peace of the world."

The British press, however, was divided regarding the president's suggestion. News of it was strikingly subordinated in today's papers although the memorandum delivered by Ambassador Alanson B. Houghton to the foreign office had been available since yesterday afternoon.

By A. L. BRADFORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, Feb. 11.—Although the government will examine President Coolidge's naval disarmament proposals for the first time at tomorrow's cabinet meeting, the impression today in authoritative diplomatic quarters was that France would find it impossible to accept his suggestion for further limitation of armaments.

SENTENCED ROBBING RAIL MAIL CAR

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 11.—(UP)—Louis Roy and George Irvine, both of Minneapolis, were sentenced to 25 years in the federal penitentiary late Thursday for robbery of a Soo Line mail car at Hankinson, N. D., last July.

Judge Andrew Miller in United States district court pronounced sentence of the two men who held up Frank Adams, mail clerk, and escaped with four sacks of mail valued at $2,500.

Capture of the pair was effected two hours after the holdup.

Early Life Insurance

Originally life insurance was not much more than an incident of marine insurance. When the success or failure of a voyage depended largely on the personal qualities of the master of the ship, the owners of ship and cargo would insure themselves not only against the perils of deep, but also against the danger of loss through the death of the master—that is, they took out insurance on the life of the master for the voyage. These early life insurance policies were written by individuals long before life insurance companies came into existence. The earliest policy of which anything definite is known was issued in London in 1583, insuring the life of one William Cybbon for 12 months. This was underwritten by 13 persons acting individually; the premium was $80 per thousand. A similar policy would cost today about $10, at age thirty-five.

Storms and Headaches

Each of us is carrying through life an enormous weight in the form of the pressure of the outside atmosphere upon our bodies. We don't it is true, notice it, because inside our bodies is another pressure (in our blood, and so forth) which exactly balances the outside pressure.

Were it not for this equalizing pressure, we should experience grave discomfort just as do mountain explorers who go to great heights where the air is "thinner."

Roughly speaking, this is generally what causes many people trouble in a thunderstorm. The atmospheric pressure alters suddenly and disturbs the balance, with the result that the arteries swell up and probably affect the brain and nerve centers, causing a headache.

Night Coughs

Stopped in 15 Minutes

Almost always coughing is caused by an irritated and inflamed throat or bronchial tubes, which cough syrups and patent medicines do not touch. But a famous physician's prescription recently discovered called Thoxine goes direct to the cause, relieves the inflamed membranes and stops the cough almost instantly, one swallow does the work and the remarkable thing about it is that it contains no dope, chloroform or harmful drugs. Once used you will never be without it. Pleasant taste. Safe for children. 35c, 60c and $1.00. Sold by Skauge Drug Co. and all good drug stores. —Advt.

Washington, Feb. 11.—(UP)—Lieut. Commander Noel Davis, U. S. N., who announced recently he planned to attempt a New York-Paris non-stop airplane flight, has selected a Huffaland converted bombing plane for the hazardous expedition, it was reported in navy circles today.

The plane is being assembled at Bristol, Pa.

Davis has been granted leave from the navy to complete plans for the trip.

Good News for Skinny Folks

Increase Your Weight 10 or 15 Pounds

When you are underweight, it is the surest sign that the food you eat does not give you the nourishment you need to be strong and healthy and full of vitality. Put some good solid flesh on your bones, nourish the tissues properly and you will feel like a fighting cock.

Nothing acts so quickly and surely to correct the nutritive processes as a scientific digestive stimulant. Science tells us that stimulation of the digestive organs supplies the nourishment our bodies must have to grow healthy and to have the power to resist disease and to fight the breaking down of the life forces.

A remarkable stimulant- tonic has been devised for just such conditions as these. It is delightfully palatable and is prepared by an old Virginia concern in business for nearly a century. Druggists and physicians have come to know this stimulant as "Old Monticello Tonic." Get a bottle today from your druggist, take a small wineglass full before your next meal—see how much better you eat—feel the glow of stimulated functions throughout the body. A few days' treatment will bring a quick change in run-down conditions and overcome lack of energy. —Advt.
